BOY, 10, KILLED AS HOMEMADE CANNON BURSTS NEAR HARNEY

Experiments of a group of youngsters in firing a homemade cannon at Starners Dam, near Harney, Md., ended Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with the death of a ten-year-old Littlestown boy.

Paul Leon Snyder, son of Paul R. and Olive C. Snyder, 31 Prince street, Littlestown, died a few moments after the "cannon" exploded and a piece of metal from the pipe being used as the cannon barrel pierced the child's heart.

A sixth grade student at the Littlestown public school, Paul had come with his family on a Sunday trip during which they stopped at a cottage at Starners Dam.

Homemade Gunpowder
The Snyders own a cottage there, but Sunday they had stopped at a neighboring cottage to view television at the invitation of friends there. While the other members of the family watched the television Paul and a 14-year-old brother, went outdoors.

They found a group of boys who had made a gunpowder of sulphur, charcoal and saltpeter, and were exploding it by placing it in a piece of pipe. Cpl. James S. Poteet, of the Maryland state police, who investigated, said the boys had obtained some dynamite caps and were using them to detonate the powder. Police are still investigating to determine the source of the dynamite caps.

For Paul, who had been begging his parents for an chemistry set for Christmas, and who had been refused because his parents considered the set too dangerous for a youngster, the "experiment" in firing the gunpowder was most interesting. The youngsters had fired the cannon several times successfully. One of the boys said he had learned the formula for a gunpowder from his chemistry class in school.

Several Receive Burns
Paul and George were standing about a dozen feet from the cannon, when the last experiment was attempted.

The gunpowder failed to explode several times and one of the boys pushed a rod down the pipe to tamp the powder prior to another attempt to set off the powder. As the length of metal was being rammed into the pipe, the powder exploded and a piece of the pipe flew off, penetrating Paul's chest and heart. The child ran about 20 feet from the scene and fell dead. Dr. James T. Marsh, Carroll county medical inspector, said that death came when the child hemorrhaged from the wound. George Snyder suffered powder burns from the explosion and several other boys received minor burns.

Funeral Wednesday
Surviving are the father, who is office manager of the Windsor shoe company at Littlestown; the mother, four brothers and a sister, George, Albert, Lawrence, Fred and Loraine, all at home, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Bedford, North Queen street, Littlestown.

Mrs. Margaret Lohr and James Rhoads, Paul's teachers in the sixth grade at Littlestown grade school, said he was an honor student in his class. He was a member of the Littlestown Cub Scout pack and a (Please Turn to Page 2)

3 FIRE ALARMS OVER WEEK-END

Gettysburg firemen were called three times over the week-end, but two of the calls were cancelled. The other, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening, took them to the home of Earl Weaver, Baltimore pike, opposite the Hunt Avenue service station. Mr. Weaver was burning honeysuckle and the fire ignited a hollow tree. Firemen put it out with a booster line.

At 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning the firemen were called to the Old Reitzelman farm near Fairfield, owned by Robert Geigley, but the call was cancelled, and the apparatus returned to the engine house, Fairfield firemen were also called. The only damage was by smudge from an oil heater.

At 6 o'clock Sunday evening the telephone operator was notified that an automobile was on fire at High and Franklin streets, but the call was cancelled before the siren was blown.

Fairfield firemen answered a call for a grass fire in the west end of that borough at noon Saturday. There was no damage.

There were 1,064 visitors in Gettysburg over the week-end according to travel figures made public this morning by John W. C. Riddle, superintendent of the National cemetery.

There were 420 visitors on Saturday with 15 guided tours. On Sunday there were 644 visitors with 23 guided tours. There were no bus tours over the week-end.

C. W. EPLEY IS STRUCK BY CAR SUNDAY NIGHT

A Swarthmore woman was charged with reckless driving by borough police Sunday night after her automobile struck and injured C. W. Epley, proprietor of the Epley garage, 100 Chambersburg street, at Chambersburg and Washington streets at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

A ten-day notice will be sent to Lois A. Walker, Swarthmore, driver of the car which struck Mr. Epley. The latter was taken to the Warner hospital for x-rays. He suffered bruises of the left side of the body and left leg, according to borough police.

Police said the Swarthmore car was traveling east on Chambersburg street, and passed another automobile and a tractor-trailer truck at the intersection. Mr. Epley had started to cross the street with the signal light red against east-west traffic. Police said it changed to green as Mr. Epley reached the center of the street.

Admits Driving Fast
The Swarthmore driver said she did not see Mr. Epley, but admitted she was driving at a fast rate of speed. Mr. Epley jumped on the hood of her car.

Mr. Epley said that he and his dog "Scotty" made three attempts to cross Chambersburg street but were forced back to the curb by automobiles turning into the street from North and South Washington streets.

JUDGE SHEELY GIVES ADDRESS AT ELKS' RITES

"We thank God that He sent His only begotten Son to teach us that death is not final and that this life is but a preparation for the one to come," Judge W. C. Sheely said Sunday evening at the annual Memorial services held by Gettysburg lodge No. 1045 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the Elks home on York street.

Observing that "in 1200 cities and towns throughout the United States this evening Elks lodges are holding memorial services in memory of our past brothers," Judge Sheely said, "it is a cardinal principle of the Elks that 'the faults of our brothers we will write upon sand, their virtues we will write on golden tablets of love and memory.' In this we put into practice the teaching of the Grand Exalted Ruler of us all, that we do unto others as we would have them do unto us."

Hanover Chorus Sings
"We come from a period of four years of war in which life seemed cheap, and it seemed that the world had forgotten the great principle of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. But there were many times during the war years when it was exemplified. Perhaps one of the most outstanding examples was given us by the four chaplains of the Dorchester, a rabbi, a priest, two ministers, who, when the ship sank, gave their lives to preserve to save the lives of their fellowmen and went to their death, praising God. Death is not the end, it is just the glorious beginning."

The program included "In The Garden," "The Lord's Prayer," "There Is No Death," the "Twenty-Third Psalm" and Doxology sung by the Hanover Elks chorus. Harold Fissel was soloist during the singing of the "Twenty-Third Psalm."

The ritual for the memorial service was carried out by Exalted Ruler Elmer W. Warren, Leading Knight James S. Shenk, Loyal Knight James R. Riegle and Lecturing Knight Warrent T. Drum, Sr. About 150 attended the services.

Motorists Unhurt In Saturday Crash
Driving on the wrong side of the road resulted in an accident on the Abbottstown-Hanover road near the Hanover airport at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. No injuries were reported.

Drivers involved were Gladys Lawver, 29, of Hanover, and March C. Shaffer, 51, of Abbottstown, state police said.

Police said Shaffer told them he was driving south when the Lawver car, approaching from the opposite direction on the wrong side of the highway, sideswiped his auto. Total damage was $55.

MORE THAN 500 AT RITES FOR FATHER STOCK

The body of Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, former pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, was interred in St. Francis Xavier Catholic cemetery, in the Stock family plot, Saturday at noon, following a pontifical high requiem mass at the local Catholic church at which the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of Harrisburg, was celebrant.

More than 500 persons filled the church for the mass, and more than 100 were present at the cemetery where the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph A. Schmidt, V.P., Carlisle, conducted the services.

At the cemetery the priests' choir sang the service in Latin, after which Monsignor Schmidt repeated the prayers in English.

K.C. Honor Guard
Fourth degree members of the Knights of Columbus, from York, stood with raised swords as the body was moved from the church to the hearse and again in the cemetery when the body was placed in the grave.

Near the close of the requiem mass Bishop Leech told the assembled group: "I wish to express my heartfelt condolence to this parish of St. Francis and to the family and friends of our beloved fellow priest, Father Mark E. Stock, for whose soul we have lovingly and confidently prayed over these past years and whom we now reverently lay away here in the place of his birth to await the day of a glorious resurrection in Jesus Christ. I wish to express grateful appreciation to the priests of Mount Saint Mary's and others beyond our diocese who have come to share our mourning as we pay him the formal and final honors that belong to a priest of God."

Tawneys Celebrate 74th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tawney, 115 Buford avenue, who will observe their 74th wedding anniversary on Thursday, were guests of honor at a buffet supper Sunday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Baker, Gettysburg R. 2.

In addition to the guests of honor those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strevig, Hagerstown; Dr. and Mrs. Norman Wolf, Fairfield; Mr. and Mrs. David Tawney and daughter, Mary Joanne, Mrs. Julia Tawney, Mrs. Carrie Prentz, all of Gettysburg; Dr. and Mrs. Baker and children, Mary, Joseph and Rachel.

Capt. Roland Hess Enroute To Germany

Captain Roland Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hess, 132 Carlisle street, has sailed for Germany as a program analysis officer.

Captain Hess was a B-17 pilot in World War II with the Eighth Air Force in England. Following his discharge he remained active in the Air Corps Reserves and later re-enlisted in the Regular Air Force for an indefinite period as a budget and fiscal director. His family is residing in Fairfield. They plan to join him at a later date.

Wins Second Prize In Window Contest

The above window, at the Lane Studio, 34 York street, won second prize in Class "A" of The Gettysburg Times-WGET Christmas window decorating contest. The prize was $15. "Twas the Night Before Christmas" was the theme of the display, with a fireplace and stocking hung from the mantel and a child asleep in its crib.

County Couple Celebrates 50th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. BLACK

Tuesday will be the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. Black, Littlestown R. 2, but the golden wedding event was celebrated at a dinner on Sunday at the home of the couple's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Black, Gettysburg R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Black were united in marriage December 4, 1901, in the parsonage of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church by the late Rev. Mr. Minnick, then pastor there. The couple lived all of their married life in Mt. Joy township where Mr. Black has engaged in farming.

Mr. Black, who was Republican county chairman about 1929, is a son of the late William and Sarah Black and was born in Cumberland town-ship. He is a former Mt. Joy township school director for eight years and for some of his years as a director, he was board secretary. He is a former member of the church council of Mt. Joy Lutheran church. Mrs. Black is a daughter of the late Henry and Mary Wherley and was born in Mt. Pleasant township. Both are 72 years of age and are enjoying good health.

Those present at the dinner on Sunday included the celebrating couple, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Staub, Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Rice, George P. Black, Mrs. Sara Gideon and son, William. Other friends visited the Blacks during the day.

Reds Admit Lost U.S. Plane In Hungary; Claim Spies Aboard

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Hungarian government confirmed today that a U.S. Air Force plane, missing since November 19 with four crewmen aboard, is in Hungary.

A Tass report broadcast by the Moscow radio earlier said the plane had been forced down a Papa, in western Hungary, by Soviet fighter planes and the four crewmen had been turned over to Hungarian authorities.

The Soviet news agency account claimed the American C-47—on a flight from Erfurt, Germany, to Belgrade—had been dispatched to carry spies and saboteurs from Yugoslavia into the Soviet Union and her east European allies.

Confirmation that the plane was in Hungary was given the U.S. legation here by the Hungarian foreign ministry, a legation spokesman said.

The foreign ministry gave no further information and the legation has as yet taken no steps, the American spokesman said.

The legation asked the Hungarian government about the plane on November 20, but the latter replied at that time that it had no information about the missing aircraft.

It was the second incident within a month involving a U.S. plane and the Soviets. The Russians have charged that an American bomber crashed in November violated Siberia's eastern coast and was driven off by fire from Red fighters. The U.S., in a complaint to the United Nations, said the plan was a meteorological craft and was fired on without warning, apparently over international waters.

(The air force in Washington has listed the crewmen as Capt. John J. Swift, Glen Falls, N. Y.; Capt. Dave H. Henderson, Shawnee, Okla.; Sgt. James A. Elam, Kingsland, Ark.; and Tech. Sgt. Jess A. Duff, Spokane, Wash.)

Dr. Fortenbaugh To Address Historians

"Edward McPherson, a National Political Figure," will be the subject of a talk to be given to members of the Adams County Historical society at their December meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the meeting rooms in the court house basement.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history of Gettysburg college and former president of the county society, will be the speaker.

A program originally arranged for the evening had to be postponed because of the illness of Homer N. Young, who was to have been the speaker. Mr. Young was admitted to the Warner hospital over the week-end. His talk on "The York-Adams Quaker Settlement" will be scheduled for a later session of the historical society.

QUEEN SEVERS TAPE OPENING NEW HIGHWAY

Littlestown's new highway on North and South Queen streets was formally opened Saturday afternoon when Miss Betty Yealy, chosen by Littlestown residents as "queen" for the ceremonies, cut the tape held by Irvin Kindig, representing agriculture and Henry E. Waltman, representing industry.

The dedication program was held at the community war veterans memorial on South Queen street, with Arthur E. Bair as master of ceremonies. It followed a parade through the principal streets, in which two bands, a drum corps, state, county and local officials, several floats and "Santa Claus" participated.

Hundreds of persons lined the streets for the parade and gathered later for the dedication ceremonies. The parade moved at 3 o'clock, headed by a state police escort and Miss Yealy, the queen, who rode in a landau carriage more than 100 years old, purchased in Russia and formerly owned by Samuel Johns. It was driven by Harry Bechtel of Hanover. Miss Yealy wore an orchid gown of net over taffeta with bolero (Continued on Page 3)

Pinkney B. Hess Faces Code Charge

Pinkney B. Hess, Fourth and Water streets, was charged at 8 p.m. Saturday night with reckless driving after his automobile struck a parked car at York street and Lincoln Square, borough police reported.

Police said an automobile owned by Clair Fissel, Gettysburg R. 1, was parked in the first parking space on York street off the square. Hess was driving out of the square, they said. According to the information filed by police, he had been drinking. A ten-day notice will be sent by Squire Basore. Damage to the Hess car was estimated at $50 and to the Fissel car at $25.

ANNOUNCE CAST FOR LOCAL PLAY

The cast of characters for the play "The Apple of His Eye" to be presented by the Little Theater group of Adams county Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p.m. at the Hotel Gettysburg annex was announced today by the director, Mrs. Edwin J. Killalea.

The cast includes Mary Roth, Fairfield, as "Stella Springer"; Peter Swaluck as "Foss Springer"; Arlene Shealer as "Lilly Tobin"; H. Wayne Weagley, "Pude Bowers"; Leo Baker, "Sam Stover"; Marjorie Noble, "Nina Stover"; Leigh Kookan, "Carole Ann Stover"; Arthur J. Roth, "Ott Tobin"; Phoebe Jacobsen, "Nettie Bowers"; and Harold Ecker, "Glen Stover."

The three-act comedy drama, which will be presented in the round, originally was written as a Broadway production for Walter Huston. Huston played the part of "Sam Stover." The comedy revolves about the romance of Sam Stover, a widower, and Lilly Tobin, a young housekeeper, with the situation being complicated by Sam's feeling that he is too old to remarry.

Tickets, at $1 each, may be obtained from any member of the Little Theater group or may be obtained at the Bookmart, Chambersburg street.

R.C. BOARD TO MEET

The chief items of business will be a report of the nominating committee preparatory to the election of a chapter chairman and a report on the blood donor program.

Rose Ann Shopp open every evening until Christmas.

Red Peace Negotiators Suggest Neutral Observers Behind Lines And "Freeze" Of Troops, Arms; U. S. Jets Score Another Victory

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 3 (AP)—American Sabre jets, outnumbered four to one, scored a sweeping victory Sunday in the mounting battle for aerial supremacy over Korea.

The Far East air forces reported five Red MIG jets were shot down and three damaged without loss of any Sabres.

Allied and Communist jets tangled in two brief air scraps high over northern Korea Monday. The Fifth Air Force said two Communist MIGs were damaged and all Allied planes returned safely.

It was the eighth day of jet-to-jet combat.

U.N. pilots said the Red fliers were far less eager to fight Monday than on previous days.

No Ground Action
The calm along the Korean ground front remained unbroken Monday. The Eighth Army reported no significant action up to noon. There were a few light contacts on the central and eastern fronts.

A low cloud blanket cut down aerial strikes after Sunday's jet victory.

Forty-seven F-86 Sabre jets took on 175 MIGs in that battle between Sinanju and the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

All told, Allied planes flew 965 sorties Sunday against air and ground targets. B-29 superforts blasted six Communist rail yards.

Trapping 5,000 Reds
The Republic of Korea (ROK) said Monday its forces are closing in on some 5,000 Communists deep in South Korea. ROK troops are using planes, loudspeakers, propaganda leaflets and mine detectors to locate hidden arms caches. The Reds are all that remain of some 100,000 long ago cut off by U.N. advances northward.

Lt. Gen. Lee Chong Chan, ROK army chief of staff, said South Korean forces are tightening a loop around the Reds in their Chiri mountain stronghold.

So far only minor skirmishes have been reported. Communications in the remote rugged country are poor.

LOCAL GUARD COMMANDER IS TRANSFERRED

Capt. John W. Deardorff, Biglerville, commanding officer of the local National Guard unit, has been transferred to regimental headquarters, 104th Armored Cavalry Regiment, Harrisburg. He will serve as regimental intelligence officer.

Captain Deardorff has served with the local National Guard since its inception after World War II. He became company commander when Capt. William G. Weaver, of New Oxford, who later went on active duty and was killed in Korea, became a regimental officer.

Last summer the local cannon company headed by Captain Deardorff won the Eisenhower trophy for being the top company in the state for training both in the army and on the field. The trophy is presented on the basis of inspection by regular army inspection teams.

Lt. Donald E. Doersom, Gettysburg R. D., who was commissioned last year after serving as an enlisted man in the company, has been named as the new commander of the local National Guard company. He served as executive officer under (Please turn to page 8)

Wanis Answers First
The United Nations command interpreted ports of entry to mean seaports, airports and rail and highway centers.

After handing Communist negotiators the list of 21 questions, Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. delegate, suggested that the entire matter of supervising the armistice be turned over to two-man subcommittees which would meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. (midnight Monday, EST.)

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il replied that he would answer the questions Tuesday and that subcommittees could be named if the Allies accept the proposal.

Joy said he could not even consider the Red plan until he had the answers to the 21 questions.

K. OF C. COUNCIL INSTALLS HEADS

New officers of the Gettysburg council of the Knights of Columbus were installed Sunday evening at a service conducted by Bernard I. Noel, McSherrystown, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, and Brook Yantis, McSherrystown, district warden.

The new officers of the local council are grand knight, Charles E. Swisher; deputy grand knight, Robert Oyler; chancellor, Thomas (Please Turn to Page 2)

Hold Xmas Service At County Home
The annual Christmas meeting at the county home sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist church was held there Sunday afternoon with Miss Verna Kitzmiller as leader.

Rev. Dr. Harold Dunkleberger, supply pastor of the Methodist church, led the prayer. Christmas readings were presented by Mrs. Theodore Hay, and the Misses Winona and Sandra Woodward. The junior choir of the church sang a number of Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Robert Deardorff. A treat of oranges was presented to the guests at the county home.

REPORTS LOCAL THEFT
Charles Bollinger, Peace Light inn, reported to borough police Sunday morning that someone stole a blanket and tool kit from his truck, parked on West High street.

CONDITION IMPROVES
Paul McClell, Hanover street, who is a patient at the Warner hospital due to an attack of pneumonia, is reported to be improving satisfactorily.

Miss Appler Weds In Littlestown

Miss Mildred Grace Appler, daughter of former Burgess Evan M. Appler, North Queen street, Littlestown, and the late Mrs. Appler, and Franklin Norris, Jr., Harrisburg, were united in marriage at 7:45 o'clock Friday evening in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, Littlestown. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, in the presence of a few relatives and close friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Gobrecht, Harrisburg, were the attendants for the couple.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of shrimp bengaline with brown accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and yellow poms. Mrs. Gobrecht wore a aqua suit with brown accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and gold poms. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's father. The couple then left on a wedding trip to New York city. Upon their return, they will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished apartment at 214 Kelker street, Harrisburg.

CASHTOWN MAN GETS 1ST DEER

Pre-season reports of a light population of deer in the South Mountains of Adams county were borne out today as few reports of first-day kills were received here.

James Herring, Cashtown, is reported to have shot a seven-point buck near Fairfield about 10 o'clock this morning. His kill was the first reported to The Gettysburg Times today.

Many hunters were reported in the mountains today but few were meeting with success. The county treasurer's office estimated 3,000 licenses had been issued for use in this county. A total of 1,215 were sold to county residents and 405 non-residents were issued. Sporting goods stores and other outlets also disposed of licenses so that no accurate figure were available.

Pennsylvania's deer season opened at 9 a.m. today and the State Game commission reported there is "plenty of game" for the state's 800,000 licensed hunters. At least one high school in Franklin, Pa.—and numerous employers declared a holiday for the occasion.

The open season on male deer carrying two or more points to one antler ends at 5 p.m. Thursday, December 13.

Pennsylvania's two-day antlerless deer season this year follows the close of buck season on December 14 and 15. Special $1.10 licenses are required for the first time to hunt doe.

DEATHS

Jacob D. Weigl, 77, died Friday at 4:30 o'clock at his home, 212 West Main street, Waynesboro. Mr. Weigl had undergone an eye operation ten years ago and for the last nine years he was afflicted with blindness. Two years ago he suffered a coronary occlusion and had been a semi-invalid since then. Eight weeks ago he suffered another heart attack and had been critically ill since that time.

He was born near York Springs, the son of Henry and Sarah (Miles) Weigl. He was a graduate of Gettysburg high school and went to Waynesboro in 1900 from Gettysburg.

He learned the machinist's trade at the Geiser company and was last employed at the Landis Machine company where he worked for 23 years. He has been retired for the last ten years.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church, Waynesboro, where he served as a deacon. For 20 years he served as treasurer of the Sunday school. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Modern Woodmen of America.

He is survived by his wife, Katherine Johnston Weigl; these children by a former marriage, Earl H. Weigl of Haverford; Harold A. of Waynesboro; Mrs. Charles Lanier, Havertown; Mrs. Harold Matthews of York; one grandchild; four step-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Bushey of Douglas, Wyo.

Funeral services today at 2 p.m. from the Grove funeral home, Waynesboro, in charge of Rev. James Mentzer. Interment in Burns Hill cemetery.

H. Harold Miller

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Bender funeral home for H. Harold Miller, 76, who was found dead in bed in his apartment in the C. W. Epley building, Chambersburg street, last Thursday evening. The Rev. Willis R. Doyle, vicar of the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, officiated. Interment was made in the Evergreen cemetery. Pallbearers were John Bower, Guyon E. Buehler, Kenneth Dengler, Francis Frew, Paul Group and Herbert Oylor.

Miss Jennings Buried

Funeral services were held Friday morning from St. Anthony's Catholic church, Emmitsburg R. D., for Miss Martha M. Jennings, 74, who died at the home of her brother, Allen P. Jennings, Emmitsburg R. D., last Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father Stanley Scarff officiated. Interment was made in St. Anthony's Shrine cemetery. The pallbearers were Francis McGraw, Paul Shockey, Edward Seltzer and Ernest Seltzer.

Rites For Mrs. Rowe

Funeral services were held from St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, Saturday morning for Mrs. Anna R. Rowe, 81, who died at her home in Emmitsburg Wednesday morning. The Rev. John Sullivan officiated. Interment was made in St. Anthony's Shrine cemetery. The pallbearers were Lewis Rosenstedt, John Kelly, Lewis Kelly, Leroy Baker, Guy Baker and Herbert Adams.

Red Huks Kill 4 In Raids On 3 Towns

Manila, Dec. 3 (AP)—Communists killed four persons, kidnapped 14 and burned the city halls in raids on three towns north of Manila last night and early today. The raids were at Santa Rita, Hermosa and Infanta.

Reports reaching here said the Huks probably would have kidnapped many more persons, but that TNT stored in the city hall at Santa Rita exploded at the height of the raid. More than 100 citizens held captive in the town square escaped in the panic which followed the blast.

HUBS HAVE BIG, VET OUTFIT TO FACE WARRIORS

When the Gettysburg high school cagers open their season next Friday night at Hagerstown they will be meeting a team with plenty of height, experience and depth.

The Hub was Maryland state title a year ago and, according to Coach Mel Henry, should be one of the best teams in the school's history this year.

In a discussion with Coach George Forney via telephone on whether Pennsylvania or Maryland officials would be used for the game, the Hub coach exuded confidence in his squad by offering to play here, intimating the outcome would be the same regardless of where the game was played or what officials would be used.

Henry will be able to place a starting team on the floor with averages over six feet. The experience comes from five returning lettermen.

Heading the list of veterans is Leo Burke, guard, who averaged nearly 20 points per game last season.

Other veterans include Jack Koonst, center; Don Springer, forward; Jim Gossard, guard, and Fred Reel, forward. Reel may yield his post to Derek Schoen, a transfer from Severn school.

Most promising of the reservists are Albert Cutshaw, Neil Beer and Harry Parks, of last year's junior varsity.

BLAIK SEES 4 YEARS OF NAVY SUPERIORITY

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—"It will be five years before Army again will be able to offer the Navy a real argument on the football field."

That statement came today from Coach Earl Blaik after watching his cadets take a history-making 42-7 lacing from the Middies in Philadelphia's Municipal stadium last Saturday.

Blaik, with what promised to be one of his best teams completely shattered by the cribbing scandal, figures it'll take that long to mold a top eleven.

Blaik May Leave
But the veteran coach again declined to say whether he'll be around to complete the five-year plan or even start it.

"To be honest with you, I haven't given much thought to my personal future," said Blaik. "My only concern has been to turn out the best football team possible with the material on hand."

There have been reports the retired army colonel would leave the Point this year to accept either another coaching position or enter the business world.

Prakes Meyers
Blaik admitted he expected last Saturday's game to be close, rather than the highest score and the widest margin of victory ever piled up by a Navy eleven against the Army. The previous top score by the Navy was 24-0 the first time the service teams met in 1890.

"They had just too much experience for us," said Blaik.

He launched into praises of Fred Meyers, 19-year-old quarterback from Enid, Okla.

"He's the best pass receiver on the team and our No. 1 runner, but he's also our top passer so we had to use him at quarterback," he said. "I thought he played a fine game but he too needs experience."

Alonzo Stagg, 89, Is Given Citation

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, 89-year-old advisory coach of unbeaten Susquehanna university, last night received a citation as "the grand old man of sports" at Northwestern university's centennial celebration.

The convocation honored 100 citizens who reside or have resided in the six-state area once known as the Northwest Territory from which the university took its name. Stagg now assists his son, Amos Alonzo, Jr., at Susquehanna.

Stagg coached the University of Chicago for more than 40 years and was one of the pioneer coaches of the Big Ten.

Prior to receiving his award, Stagg said in an interview that "the values of football are so well established and recognized by the educational leaders of our colleges and universities that while the game may be in danger momentarily, I don't believe it will be done away with."

PRO GRID TITLE RESTS BETWEEN RAMS, BROWNS

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—With two weeks to go, it seems like a good bet that the Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles Rams again will meet for the National Football League championship.

Both took long strides toward that goal yesterday by racking up impressive, one-sided victories.

The Browns moved to within one game of clinching the American conference title by smashing the Chicago Cardinals, 49 to 28, behind Otto Graham's brilliant pass work.

Bears, Lions Tumble
And Los Angeles took over the top spot in the National conference with a 42-17 victory over the one mighty but now ordinary Chicago Bears.

This victory, coupled with Detroit's loss of San Francisco, dropped the Lions from first place and all but ended the Bears' hopes for the conference crown. San Francisco, playing the role of spoiler, upset Detroit, 20 to 10.

Los Angeles (7-3-0) and Detroit (6-3-1) collide next Sunday on the West coast in the game that could decide the conference title.

Giants Beat Steelers
Meanwhile, the dogged New York Giants retained their slim hopes in the American conference by blanketing Pittsburgh, 14-0. However, Cleveland (9-1-0) can end this race by defeating Pittsburgh next Sunday.

The Giants have a 7-2-1 record, their only losses coming to the Browns. In other games—which had no bearing on the leaders—the New York Yanks won their first game of the season, shading Green Bay, 31 to 28, and Philadelphia outlasted the Washington Redskins, 35 to 21.

Cleveland and Los Angeles met for the NFL title last season, with the Browns winning a thriller, 30 to 28, on Lou Groza's last-minute field goal. If they meet again this year, the Browns will be looking for their sixth straight pro title—they won four in a row in the All-America conference—while Los Angeles, naturally, will be seeking a little revenge.

Prakes Meyers
Blaik admitted he expected last Saturday's game to be close, rather than the highest score and the widest margin of victory ever piled up by a Navy eleven against the Army. The previous top score by the Navy was 24-0 the first time the service teams met in 1890.

COLLEGE GRID SEASON ENDS; BOWLS TO GO

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The college football season quietly folded today—except for the usual rash of bowl games—but before the moleskins are hauled out again you'll hear plenty about the game.

Roughing . . . TV . . . subsidization . . . spring practice, they'll occupy the time and talent of the top administrators and coaches in the country through the winter.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that by the time the 1952 season starts, there will be many a modification in the high-pressure tactics employed by the colleges.

Rough Tactics Common
The past season there were at least five incidents that arose as a result of accusations of roughing. The most serious led to Drake's withdrawal from the Missouri Valley conference because of a broken jaw suffered by Johnny Bright, at that time the nation's leading ground gainer.

Drake officials claimed he was roughed deliberately by Oklahoma A. and M.

But that wasn't an isolated incident. Even in the Ivy League, tempers got out of control in the Princeton-Dartmouth game with no fewer than a dozen combatants helped off the field. Princeton's ace All-American back, Dick Kazmaier, suffered a concussion and a fractured nose.

Baylor and Southern Methodist got a discussion over rough tactics, there was an undercurrent of dissatisfaction over the Nebraska-Minnesota game in which Nebraska Tackle Jack Minick suffered a concussion. Finally, Marquette Coach Lisle Blackburn said his school would not play Tulsa after 1952 because of such "frankly illegal" tactics.

So it seems apparent that the rules committee will have to take some action for roughing.

In the stormy matter of television, the embattled NCAA only Saturday reiterated its stand on video, defending its actions on the experimental program of limited telecasts, and claiming once again that it never has been told by the Department of Justice that the move was illegal.

When the final returns are in tomorrow, the top team in the country for the year will be decided. Tennessee, which has been leading the Associated Press poll for several weeks, had rough going Saturday—probably the result of a natural let-down after beating Kentucky—but defeated Vanderbilt, 35-27.

Navy submerged Army, 42-7, in Philadelphia before a crowd of 99,000 in a game that in past years might have had some bearing on the national standings. The same can be said of Notre Dame's 19-12 upset over Southern California. No national recognition there, either.

The last two teams for the big bowls also have been selected. Texas Christian, winner of the Southwest conference title after defeating Southern Methodist, 13-3, goes to the Cotton bowl as host team against Kentucky. Baylor, runner-up to TCU, will play Georgia Tech in the Orange bowl New Year's Day. The Bears whipped Rice, 34-13. Georgia Tech swamped Georgia, 48-6.

2 NUNS JAILED, THREE EXPELLED FROM RED CHINA
Hong Kong, Dec. 3 (AP)—Two Canadian nuns were sent to prison for five years and three others were ordered expelled from China after a clamorous broadcast trial Sunday in Canton.

The three sisters facing expulsion had not arrived tonight. Catholic spokesmen said the three might be escorted to the border tomorrow.

Two other Canadian nuns who helped run the Sacred Heart orphanage in Canton were sentenced to five years in prison at the close of the trial before 6,000 shouting Chinese in Sun Yat Sen square. The shouts of the spectators could be heard plainly here by radio listeners.

The prison terms were given Sister Superior Antoinette Couvrette, 38, Joliette, Quebec, and Sister Jermaine Gravel, 43, Three Rivers, Quebec.

Banished from China for life were Sisters Imelda Lapierre, Penrouge, Quebec; Jermaine Tanguay, a Canadian citizen born at Nashua, N. H., and Elizabeth Lemire, La Bale Du Fevre, Quebec.

The five nuns for years ran the Sacred Heart orphanage and received center for abandoned children and unwanted girls.

Most of the youngsters were starved and ill when brought to the sisters. Many were dying. The nuns saved hundreds, but thousands died and the Communists charged the sisters with one count of murder for each death.

The nuns were arrested March 19, paraded through the streets of Canton and kept in jail until their public trial.

The nuns apparently were given no opportunity to defend themselves.

PENNSY BUYS DIESELS
Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad will spend $60 million for 180 diesel electric locomotives and 5,000 modern freight cars and approximately $12 million for new rails and for rehabilitation of freight cars. President Walter S. Franklin said last night the new expenditures "bring the Pennsylvania's new and rehabilitated equipment for the last few years to over $650 million."

White House automobiles are not the personal property of U. S. Presidents. They are leased by the government from manufacturers, who supply the cars at nominal rates because of the publicity value.

BANQUET SPEAKERS
Johnny Yovitsin, a member of the Gettysburg college football coaching staff, will be the speaker at a banquet tonight at 7 o'clock in honor of the Steelton high school squad at the Steelton Serbian hall. Coach Henry Bream will speak Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the New Cumberland club banquet.

MONDAY MATINEE
The East-West football game management has to set aside several hundred choice seats each year for "alumni," who have the privilege of buying a pair. . . . Soft life these jockeys have. Charley Burr, now America's leading rider, gallops horses for River Divide Farm at Hialeah every morning. Now that Tropical is open, he rides there every afternoon. At night he attends school at Miami's Tech high. . . . Red Grange tells banquet audiences that the greatest football player he ever saw was Tony Latone of the old Pottsville, Pa., Maroons. . . . Tony's alma mater listed in the programs was "from de mines." Nowadays he'd probably be an honor student at some college.

Basketball League Meeting Postponed

The meeting for final organization of the Community Basketball league, scheduled for this evening in the Gettysburg high school gymnasium, has been postponed until Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock due to the illness of Donald Joseph, Recreation director.

Midget basketball scheduled for this evening has also been cancelled.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Branch Rickey originated the farm system, which has been charged with "killing" minor league baseball. At least it has done a pretty good job of killing off independent opposition.

Now Rickey wants a new high school rule which would permit the signing of kids while they're still in school—although the clubs couldn't play or pay them until after graduation. . . . If there's a better way of killing off high school baseball, we don't know it. . . . The current agreement, which expires this year, was passed so many high schools threatened to give up baseball as a result of the annoying actions of scouts.

They not only were losing their best players, but many of the others were being approached so often they couldn't study. . . . Rickey now proposes to let them keep the boys—if they'll change their concept of amateurism to keep a player eligible after he has signed a pro contract.

But apparently he wants to get those teen-agers signed up before they're old enough to know what they're worth. . . . Maybe it's a good way to build up one club, but it may be hard on the game of baseball.

2 NUNS JAILED, THREE EXPELLED FROM RED CHINA
Hong Kong, Dec. 3 (AP)—Two Canadian nuns were sent to prison for five years and three others were ordered expelled from China after a clamorous broadcast trial Sunday in Canton.

The three sisters facing expulsion had not arrived tonight. Catholic spokesmen said the three might be escorted to the border tomorrow.

Two other Canadian nuns who helped run the Sacred Heart orphanage in Canton were sentenced to five years in prison at the close of the trial before 6,000 shouting Chinese in Sun Yat Sen square. The shouts of the spectators could be heard plainly here by radio listeners.

The prison terms were given Sister Superior Antoinette Couvrette, 38, Joliette, Quebec, and Sister Jermaine Gravel, 43, Three Rivers, Quebec.

Banished from China for life were Sisters Imelda Lapierre, Penrouge, Quebec; Jermaine Tanguay, a Canadian citizen born at Nashua, N. H., and Elizabeth Lemire, La Bale Du Fevre, Quebec.

The five nuns for years ran the Sacred Heart orphanage and received center for abandoned children and unwanted girls.

Most of the youngsters were starved and ill when brought to the sisters. Many were dying. The nuns saved hundreds, but thousands died and the Communists charged the sisters with one count of murder for each death.

The nuns were arrested March 19, paraded through the streets of Canton and kept in jail until their public trial.

The nuns apparently were given no opportunity to defend themselves.

PENNSY BUYS DIESELS
Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad will spend $60 million for 180 diesel electric locomotives and 5,000 modern freight cars and approximately $12 million for new rails and for rehabilitation of freight cars. President Walter S. Franklin said last night the new expenditures "bring the Pennsylvania's new and rehabilitated equipment for the last few years to over $650 million."

White House automobiles are not the personal property of U. S. Presidents. They are leased by the government from manufacturers, who supply the cars at nominal rates because of the publicity value.

BANQUET SPEAKERS
Johnny Yovitsin, a member of the Gettysburg college football coaching staff, will be the speaker at a banquet tonight at 7 o'clock in honor of the Steelton high school squad at the Steelton Serbian hall. Coach Henry Bream will speak Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the New Cumberland club banquet.

MANY PROBLEMS FACE SESSIONS OF MINOR LOOPS

By JOE REICHLER

Columbus, O., Dec. 3 (AP)—Five big major league questions remained to be answered and five important minor league problems waited to be solved as the minor leagues opened their golden jubilee convention today.

Some 1,200 baseball people representing 49 leagues from all corners of the nation were present.

These are the questions:
1. Will Eddie Stanky manage the St. Louis Cardinals?
2. Will Joe DiMaggio announce his official retirement?
3. Will Ted Williams be traded?
4. Will the New York Yankees get Neg Garver?
5. Will the Brooklyn Dodgers get Ewell Blackwell or any of the other star pitchers of the Cincinnati Reds?

The five problems confronting minor league baseball are: (A) Open classification for the higher minors; (B) Radio and television inroads on minor league attendance; (C) High school rule; (D) Abolition of 24-hour recall of players sent to lower classification and trimming of big league roster from 25 to 23 players; (E) Placing an eighth club in the International league.

The cold war between owners Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants continues as the newly Redbirds boss declares he had three other candidates in mind besides the Giants' scrappy second baseman.

"While Stanky remains my No. 1 choice, I have three other men, all highly capable, under consideration," Saigh declared. "I have talked with all three. I am not at liberty to divulge their names but one is in my own organization. The other two are in the National league."

The Giants have asked for outfielder Chuck Diering and southpaw Max Lanier. Saigh refuses to part with any of his pitchers. He has offered a second string infielder along with Diering for Stanky.

One of the three is Terry Moore, popular coach of the Cardinals and a leading candidate last year when Marty Marion got the job. Pee Wee Reese, reported to be another, squashed that rumor himself. The Brooklyn shortstop said:

"I am not interested in managing the Cardinals or any other club right now. I hope manage a club after my playing days are ended."

Lou Boudreau has just about decided to take Ted Williams' name off the market. The new manager of the Boston Red Sox is not satisfied with any of the offers he has had for his star slugger.

Buzzy Bavasi, young energetic vice president of the Dodgers, said he was still hopeful of landing Ewell Blackwell, Howie Fox or Herman Wehmeier of the Reds. He also was seeking righthander Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs.

30 GOP SENATORS HOLD CAUCUS
Harrisburg, Dec. 3 (AP)—Republican senators aimed today at a $47 million cut in spending and at raising $100 million in new taxes to end the General Assembly's long tax deadlock.

The 30 GOP senators called a closed door caucus in advance of the late afternoon Senate session to spell out details of a tentative agreement reached last week on spending and taxes.

Dr. Edward B. Logan, state budget secretary, was asked to provide a detailed list of appropriations sought by Gov. John S. Fine as an aid in determining where to make the reductions.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter) chairman of the caucus, said the prime job ahead was that of trimming $47 million from expenses. When that is done, he said, they would go further into a tentative agreement to raise an additional $100 million in new taxes.

Berger voiced optimism that the $47 million cut and $100 million raise formula would break the tax deadlock that has produced the longest session of the General Assembly in history. One appropriation appeared certain to be cut was that of the governor's request for $20,000,000 for civil defense. That grant may be trimmed to $4,000,000.

Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) said in advance of the caucus that he would suggest a flat 10 per cent slash in the fund set aside for administration expenses of the state's various departments. Wade estimated that at least $8,500,000 could be saved in this manner.

Some six billion checks are printed annually to supply the need for this handy substitute for cash.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Thanksgiving day was generally observed in Gettysburg—the places of business being all closed. There were services in the English Lutheran Church. Prayer by Rev. R. Johnston; and Sermon by Rev. Dr. Schmucker. In the evening an Address was delivered in the same place on the subject of Temperance, by Rev. Dr. Baugher, at the request of "Adams Division."

Hon. Daniel Smysler left Gettysburg on Thursday to enter upon his duties as President Judge of the Bucks and Montgomery district. His first Court opened Monday at Doylestown.

On Monday evening a number of his personal friends, without distinction of party, gave him a complimentary supper at the "Franklin House," which passed off very pleasantly.

On Tuesday, at 12 o'clock, the President of the U. States sent in his message. It is clear, concise and gives a fair and full history of the state of our affairs, both foreign and domestic. It is a masterly document and worthy of its distinguished author. Though long, it will repay a perusal.

Married: On the 4th inst., by Rev. Mr. Sechler, Mr. David Lohr, to Miss Sabina Becker—both of this county. On the 25th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Vandersloot, Mr. John W. Bachman, of Hanover, to Miss Nancy Slagle, of this county.

On the same day, by the same, Mr. Nathaniel Gitt, of this county, to Miss Sarah Ziegler, of York. On the 27th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Martin, Michael Gallagher, Esq. (formerly of Gettysburg) to Mrs. Eliza Ingelritz—both of York.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. James W. Keefe, to Miss Cecilia Wintrose—both of Germany township.

On the 27th ult., by the same, Mr. Daniel Walter, of Butler township, to Miss Elvira R. Schlosser, of Menallen township.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Rosenmiller, Mr. Jacob G. Basehoar, to Miss Lydia Ann Bittinger, both of this county.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Local Items: St. Joseph's Catholic church at Taneytown, Md., will be dedicated on Sunday, December 10.

Robert Eicholtz was knocked down by coming in contact with some running machinery in Gingell's mill, breaking his left arm near the shoulder.

On the evening of the 30th ult., Mrs. Rebecca Wiernan, aged about 66 years, wife of Benjamin Wiernan, near Bendersville, went to the stable to milk and was stricken down by apoplexy. She was found lying on her face and was taken to the house, dying next morning.

Married: Haverstick-Hersh.—On the 23d ult., by Rev. D. Sell, Mr. Isaac Haverstick to Miss Anna J. Hersh, both of Adams county.

Livingston-Deardoff.—On the 28th ult., by Rev. D. Sell, Mr. Wm. S. Livingston to Miss Emeline Deardoff, both of Adams county.

Siothower-Raffensperger.—On the 31st of October, 1876, by Rev. D. Sell, Mr. J. W. Siothower, of Cumberland county, to Miss Amelia S. Raffensperger, of Adams county.

Clark-Shumaker.—On the 26th ult., in Littlestown, by Rev. John Ault, Mr. Adam Clark of Taneytown, to Miss Mary C. Shumaker, of Carroll county, Md.

One by one our older citizens are disappearing. Among those who still survive are—Mrs. Foster, who will be 93 on the 7th of March; Dr. John Runkle who will be 91 on the 22d of February; and Mr. John Houck, who will be 90 on the 6th of January.

The dedication services of the new Methodist church at Fairfield on Thursday were very interesting and attracted large audiences. About $900 additional contributions were secured which leaves the church with little or no debt. Among the ministers in attendance was Rev.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ELASTICITY OF MIND

It is the matter of the mind out of which we present a picture to the world of what we are—our manner of thinking, deciding, judging, and evaluating. To be blessed with an elasticity of mind is a wonderful thing—being endowed with the will and ability to recover quickly from mental depression, disappointment, or misfortune—again to be cheerful and to present to the world, or to one's immediate neighborhood, youthfulness of mind and buoyancy of spirit.

During times of trouble and confusion, when character is so strongly challenged, it is inspiring to meet with one whose elasticity of mind helps to put facts and truths in their proper place, restoring confidence and hope. What a privilege to have a friend thus constituted!

What a multitude of people are all around us today who have lost this God-given ability to bounce back from the unhappy happenings of each day, or from unexpected emergencies. How few there are who can walk right past failure with a smile and a will! And yet, that is what it is to have elasticity of mind.

However, if we offer no resistance to the many vicissitudes of life, that great power of elasticity finally loses its potentiality and we are no longer masters of ourselves. We then become dependents and tenants of other minds.

Use it what gives life to everything. Store a thing and it begins to grow old, needing the elements of air and handling to keep it in a useful condition. Lack of exercise for the body allows it to become weak and unable to resist disease. It's the trained body that is elastic and vibrant with life and enthusiasm. It's the same thing with the mind. It needs activity and interests to keep it healthy.

Spread your thoughts out. Send them on errands! They will come back with their arms full of dividends. You will view new horizons. And you will experience many a new birth of enthusiasms. That's what creates elasticity of mind!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Self-Made Man."

SANTA DISCOVERED

A first class detective is little Miss Six.

I'd say, with a head full of Hopalong's tricks.

With a ten gallon hat and two guns at her side.

And blue jeans and boots and a cowboy's long stride.

She discovered old Santa Claus' tracks in the snow.

That he's watching her brother she's letting him know.

"You'd better watch out what you're doing," said she.

"You neve rean tell what old Santa will see.

You'd better be good. He's already in town.

In the dining room window—the curtains weren't down—

He was looking last night. Just come out and I'll show

You the footprints he made as he walked in the snow.

"Do you know something else?

It was plain to be seen

Your hair wasn't brushed and your fingers weren't clean.

Your school books were open.

You hadn't begun

To start with your homework and get it all done.

Come out and I'll show you where Santa Claus stood.

So, Pardon—I'm telling you, start to be good."

Poor House Matters: On Monday

qualified and succeeded Mr. Bucher. The Board re-elected the old directors.

We understand that quite a flurry was occasioned by an attempt to oust the Clerk, Treasurer and Physician —sundry applicants for these positions offering to serve the public at reduced rates. The result of it all was to cut down the salary of the Clerk $25 and that of the Physician

$15. Mr. Jacob Berner, the Treasurer, proved recalcitrant and got his old position with the old salary.

Having thus saved $40 for the

DECEMBER'S VARYING TASKS

Because strict adherence to the daily calendar is not so important as the year is dying, December's household, lawn, garden and general farm tasks may be apportioned with more liberal limitations.

Within the 31 short days of December comes the long procession of the sun back from its southernmost travels and with it another growing season. It seems strange that the next year's parade of resurrected plant life begins in cold December.

Now is an excellent time to take an inventory of 1951—its accomplishments and especially the mistakes. Little farm and gardening progress can be made solely by talking and thinking about the victories won. But how much we learn when we weigh our blunders and analyze them to find out why they occurred.

It is not too late in early December to tuck a few more tulip bulbs into sheltered beds, to plant one or a few more ornamental shrubs, to add another shade tree to the home grounds, to set out a few nut trees in a fertile fence row.

Some of the cheeriest and cheering birds stay on with us all winter. These will be found fussing about on cold mornings, trying to find a few stray bits of food. They pay big dividends to the citizen or community thoughtful enough to furnish them water and daily feedings over winter.

Another duty in which human beings may discharge their responsibility to dumb creatures who are man's friends is to treat horses to control stomach bots. These parasites cause horses days, weeks, months and years of acute agony by their feeding in the animal's tender stomach lining. Man can demonstrate his most admirable humane traits by taking his horses to a capable veterinarian in early December for an inexpensive treatment to control bots. If all horse owners in a community would do this, the bot problem would be solved.

Quail and other upland game birds should have an occasional sheaf of unthreshed wheat or oats, a few gallons of grain screenings, heads of sorghum seed or sunflower seed heads distributed beneath dense evergreens or in other shelters where they may obtain a relished "meal" when snow covers their normal sources of sustenance.

It is not necessary to sacrifice died about 10 o'clock at night.

Sales: On the 2d inst., Mr. Abraham Meals, Assignee of Joseph Ziegler, sold the hotel and store building in Idaville to Jesse Houck for $1250.

I. N. Durboraw, Esq., Administrator of Margaret Chambers, dec'd., sold the property in Mountjoy township, 10 acres, to Samuel G. Carl, for $265.

Peter Gintling has sold his farm, 56 acres, in Cumberland township, to David Deardoff, at $2,500 and $100 for the grain in the ground.

Winter protection in this marginal zone of growth can best be provided by planting them where they will enjoy shelter from prevailing winds, preferably near a heavy shrub border or a building that checks cold, drying winds.

Bright sunshine or a warm period often promotes leaf growth while the roots are unable to furnish moisture or sustenance because the ground is frozen. This condition leads to excess loss of leaf moisture through transpiration with resulting browning or winter burning. The prevention for this lies in erecting a shade of burlap, as already suggested, or a slat covering. Either should be far enough above the foliage to avoid friction. Such protection should be placed over the plants after the ground is frozen and steady cold weather arrives. And it should be removed as soon as the risk of temperatures below 20 degrees F. is past.

If the soil is well drained, as it should be insured at the time it is prepared for planting, a liberal mulch applied after the ground freezes in late November will help avoid alternate freezing and thawing. This protection is doubly necessary in wind-swept locations and where winter sunshine is likely to cause the soil temperature to fluctuate. In fact, the soil mulch is intended mainly to hold the soil temperature at a uniformly low level.

Readers with questions they wish to ask about boxwood growing are invited to write the editor for all the information they desire. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for prompt personal reply.

COMMON BOXWOOD PROBLEMS

Boxwoods in this country enjoy their most favorable climatic adaptation in a region extending from the Atlantic seacoast to the Blue Ridge mountains and from central Georgia northward into south central Pennsylvania, with a narrow belt running north near the coast into southern Connecticut. The Cumberland and Shenandoah valleys are in the marginal zone of this range and here the plants need protection from too much direct sun as well as from cold, drying winds in winter.

Aided and guarded by proper cultural practices, boxwood in this area will thrive almost as well as in the more favorable portions of its native habitat or its adopted habitat. Among these helpful practices are:

Give preference to a sheltered site in all-day sunshine.

Endeavor to keep growth developing steadily but never with rapidity, else too much soft wood may invite diseases.

Feed with conservative caution and water during dry periods over summer and during fall months.

Good drainage plus a soil type to hold moisture is a sound rule in choosing locations and preparing soils.

Mulch liberally with straw, stable manure, straw or peat in late fall or early winter.

In regions where recurrent warm spells occur in winter, cover with a single thickness of burlap to shade foliage from direct sun.

Boxwoods do well in both extremes of soil reaction—a soil as acid as that required for rhododendrons or in a soil rich in lime. Certainly they do not require, as many persons believe, a strongly acid loam.

Winter protection in this marginal zone of growth can best be provided by planting them where they will enjoy shelter from prevail-

TIPS ON GIFTS FOR GARDENERS

Gift certificates and checks, earmarked for the purchase of nursery stock, are always welcomed by the home gardener at Christmas, says Henry B. Aul in the New York Herald Tribune. The plants may not be delivered until spring but here is carefree money to spend for that extra select evergreen, flowering tree or shrub, rose or fruit that has long been wanted. Gift plants grow in beauty and value. Years from now it may be possible to admire a shrub or tree that was a gift this Christmas of 1951, grown to become the most beautiful specimen in the garden.

The gift certificate, made out by your favorite nursery, or the check, may specify the exact plant to be purchased or the amount of the gift. It is easy enough to designate plants that will be welcomed by the recipient. Thumb through the nursery and seed catalogs looking for the unusual in ornamental or fruit stocks.

Grafted wistaria plants, the type that is reliable in their flowering habits, will be welcomed by any gardener with a sunny arbor, fence or wall trellis that needs covering. Those who have no location for a vine will be more than pleased with a tree form wistaria. Long racemes of purple-blue flowers cover the graceful, pendulous branches in May. It will become a specimen of outstanding beauty in a special planting pocket on the terrace, in the flower border or on the lawn. A five to six-foot tree is around $12; the vines, $1.75 to $7.50 for two-year to extra heavy plants more than five years old.

Another unusual flowering tree, the Laburnum watereri or L. vossii, produces eighteen to twenty-inch pendant golden flowers that resemble the wistaria. It is a small tree, growing with an upright shape to a height of twenty to twenty-five feet. A five to six-foot specimen is about $7.50.

The redivin ekianthus (E. campanulatus) is an attractive flowering shrub seldom seen in home ground plantings. It grows slowly to an ultimate height of twelve to fifteen feet, developing a compact upright shape that requires a minimum of pruning. Whorls of clean, dark green foliage turn bright autumn colors and in the spring the branches of tiny bell-shaped flowers, white with red veins, are worthy of close inspection. It is a good choice for the refined shrubby border or foundation planting that is placed against a high wall. Price for a four-to-five foot plant is about $7.50.

KOREAN WAR IS "SCREWIEST" IN MODERN TIMES

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Korean war has now become one of the most mixed up situations in recent times. Take it step by step.

A week ago the United Nations and Korean-Chinese Communists reached an agreement. They didn't agree to stop shooting. They simply agreed on a line—an armistice line—where they'd stop shooting if they could agree to stop shooting.

This agreement on an armistice line was the first agreement the two sides had been able to reach after five months of haggling.

It was a major point. But it was only one of four major points the two sides thought they must agree on before there could be an armistice.

It Raises A Question

So this was the way the agreement on the armistice line went:

1. The line where the two sides face each other now will be the armistice line if they agree on those other three points in 30 days.

2. If they don't agree on those three in 30 days, then the armistice line will be drawn wherever the troops face each other when there finally is agreement on those three points, which might be months.

That raises a question: Suppose our troops right now put on a rip-roaring attack and drove the Communists back, maybe all the way back to the Yalu river.

Misunderstanding

Further, suppose that was accomplished within 30 days and within that time, too, both sides had agreed on those three other points. What then?

The U. N. troops would have to give back to the Communists all the land they had captured within those 30 days and drive back to the point where they are now.

This week reporters on the Korean front reported a halt in the fighting by both the U. N. and Chinese troops. The surprised uproar that followed resulted in general denials by the White House and the army that there had been any cease-fire order.

And Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the 8th Army, said maybe some of his troops had misunderstood instructions issued by his headquarters.

But this story is simply explain-

New Chapter In Strange Story Of Ranger Grainger

Sudbury, Ont., Dec. 3 (AP)—Provincial police insisted Friday the "shoeless hillbilly" who claimed to have wandered out of the New Mexico wilds to join the U.S. Army is really Grainger, the Ranger.

The police said they are sure the Peter Grainger who bewitched American Army men with a tale of how he never saw but one woman before he "buried paw" and decided to join up is, in fact, Peter Ernest John Grainger, 25, a self-assured, well-educated forest ranger from northern Ontario. The U.S. Army lists "Hillbilly" Grainger as AWOL.

Far from being unschooled, innocent child of the wilds he claimed to be, said the provincial police, Grainger is a London-born former officer in the British army who turned up in Canada in December, 1950.

Found In Canada

When army recruiters in San Antonio, Tex., heard from Grainger November 3 that he never saw an automobile, that he was reared on goat's milk and had never seen an honest-to-goodness town, the army men were captivated. Grainger was interviewed, lionized, taken riding in automobiles and shown San Antonio's night life.

Then, he was sent to the Army Proving Ground at Aberdeen, Md. On November 12, he disappeared.

Grainger was found Wednesday walking along the highway between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie. A tourist camp operator called police because the man's behavior was strange. Police said he was incoherent.

A psychiatrist recommended sending him to a hospital for treatment of a head injury reportedly suffered ing the one fact: That if the U. N. troops captured any ground from the Communists—and there's agreement on those other three points within 30 days—the captured ground will have to be given up.

President Truman said something which is important here in order to understand the mixed-up problem of Korea. He said:

"The continued pressure of our forces on the enemy constitutes the strongest incentive for the latter to agree to a just armistice. Any premature slackening of our effort would cost us more casualties in the long run than need be lost."

So it seems the fighting will continue, in some form, anyway.

in World War II. U.S. Army authorities at Aberdeen said Grainger still is listed as AWOL. Canadian authorities said, however, they had no word from the U.S. regarding the case.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Robert Burnell DeGroot, Prince street, husband of Jean Yealy DeGroot, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. DeGroot, was among 38 first year students at the Lutheran Theological seminary, Gettysburg, to matriculate in a special service, followed with Holy Communion, at the Church of the Abiding Presence on the seminary campus, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Little, Philadelphia, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brown, West King street; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Little, South Queen street, and with other relatives and friends in the community over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were accompanied home on Saturday by their son-in-law and daughter after spending the past week at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Whitmore and son, Robert, Finksburg, Md., were Saturday evening visitors at the home of Mrs. Whitmore's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grove, Jr., and family, near town.

Miss Marion Stavelly, a student at Union Memorial hospital, Baltimore, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Stavelly, Crouse Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DiMuzio, Greenbelt, Md., visited over the week-end with Mrs. DiMuzio's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Motter, and with other relatives and friends in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stultz and son, Jack, and daughter, Karen, York, were Sunday visitors at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Carrie Stultz, and son, Richard, North Queen street.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller and her mother, Mrs. Annie Parr, Baltimore, were Saturday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. Miller's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Stavelly, Crouse Park.

The December meeting of the Consistory of St. Mary's Reformed church will be held at 7:30 o'clock

Wednesday evening in the church study.

The Council of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, will hold its monthly meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the Ladies' Aid society of Grace Lutheran church will hold its December meeting in the parish house, when plans will be furthered for the annual society Christmas party to be held Tuesday, December 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Secret Pals will be revealed and gifts will be exchanged at the Christmas party.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company No. 1 will serve a turkey dinner to a Sunday school class from Baust church, near Taneytown, Md., on Tuesday at the engine house, along the Littlestown-Taneytown road.

Mrs. Charles Stambaugh, North Queen street, will be hostess to the Mite society of St. Paul's Lutheran church for the December meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

"Putting in Zippers" will be the subject of discussion at the first December meeting of the Littlestown Homemakers on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hobson D. Crouse, along the Littlestown-Gettysburg road.

Mexico City's lowest street is more than a mile higher than the top-most points of New York city's skyscrapers.

COMMUNITIES WARNED TO KEEP DEBTS DOWN

Harrisburg, Dec. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania communities were warned today to go slow in increasing municipal expenditures.

Otherwise, a local government expert warned, "They may find themselves burdened with a huge indebtedness which must be paid off by citizens with reduced incomes."

Dr. Willard R. Hancock, director of the state Bureau of Municipal Affairs, said some communities may be tempted to increase local indebtedness at the present time because of "prosperous" local conditions. But he added: "The surpluses enjoyed today should be used as a cushion against further tax increases in the future."

Writing in the Department of Internal Affairs' monthly publication, Dr. Hancock said that even though "local government in Pennsylvania is enjoying an unusually high degree of prosperity with revenue receipts this year" there is no guarantee that such prosperity will continue.

"If international tensions should ease and a cut-back made in our defense effort," he stressed, "there would be definite concern over our ability to sustain present conditions."

He added: "The implications of this national economic condition should be apparent to our local government units. These governments may spend at such a high rate that they will assume obligations difficult to maintain if deflation sets in later."

TRUMAN WARNS
CEASE FIRE MAY BE RED "TRAP"

Key West, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—The country has warning from President Truman that Red negotiators for a cease fire in Korea may be no more than a Communist trap.

"We can not," the president asserted, "allow our men to be caught off-balance by the enemy in case we can not reach a satisfactory armistice."

Mr. Truman, meeting with newsmen for the second time since he flew to Key West November 8, told them in blunt terms late Friday that the fighting will continue in Korea as long as there is a possibility that United Nations forces might be caught off-balance.

Lectures The Press
The continued pressure of our forces on the enemy constitutes the strongest incentive for the latter to agree to a just armistice," he said. "Any premature slackening of our effort would cost us more casualties in the long run than need be lost."

Mr. Truman warned, as his press secretary, Joseph Short, did Wednesday, that there has been no cease-fire in Korea and "can be none until an armistice has been signed."

Until United Nations terms are met, he added, there can be no assurance of the future safety of UN forces, "including those who are prisoners of the enemy."

Mr. Truman supplemented his formal statement with an off-the-cuff lecture to assembled newsmen on what he called cease fire and armistice stories.

Recalls '18 Fake

He said he was marching in France on October 27, 1918, with his battery when he came upon a French newspaper with headlines proclaiming the signing of an armistice. Just as he read the headline, he said, a shell burst 100 yards from him on one side and another on the other side.

That story, he said, was put out by Roy Howard, then writing for the United Press, and it was a fake.

He said an Associated Press story out of Seoul Friday, saying that on orders from the highest source, possibly the White House, ground fighting had been brought to a complete, if temporary halt, was on a parallel with it.

Mr. Truman said he understood the AP story came out because of intense competition for news.

African Violets Need
Shade From Noon Sun

African violets have become a hobby with many, and most persons have surprisingly good success with them. They are native to the rain forests of western Africa where they are drenched frequently by torrential tropical rains that create an atmosphere far more humid than that possible in the home.

Perched high in cliffs where the roots are embedded in soil rich in humus, they have good drainage despite the frequent rains. A dancing pattern of sun reaches them through the swaying crowns of the trees.

Realizing the conditions to which the plant is accustomed, the gardener will do well to screen the direct midday sun except during the winter when the rays are not nearly so powerful as in summer. Cold drafts are very damaging and the temperature should be held at 70 degrees during the day and 65 at night. They do not seem to mind an occasional drop to 55 during the night so long as the day temperature reaches the optimum of 70.

Although auroras, or "northern lights," sometimes give the illusion of touching the ground, none has been measured at a height of less than 35 miles above the earth's surface.

Letter to the Editor

Dedication Day 1951 21 November (two days late)

Paul L. Roy, Editor,
The Gettysburg Times,
Gettysburg, Pa.
Dear "Ed":

A Problem confronts you and I, or conversely I and you are confronted by a Problem.

Four score and seven times, more or less, during the last month our Gettysburg Times has been Two Days late. We had become habituated to the proposition that it should be only one day late, and yet familiarized with the constitutional right of Freedom of The Press.

Now we are engaged in a personal war, testing whether Freedom of The Press shall mean that the paper shall be withheld from the rural subscriber until the contents have become stale. We are met to determine the final resting place of an overripe paper whose news has been decayed by the element—TIME. In years of yore, paper of this type, once its contents had been digested, could be used in a "Chic Sale," but the Standard of Living has risen to the place that this is no longer fitting or proper.

But in a larger sense, we should not criticize, we should not censure, we should not reprove this paper, we should IMPROVE it.

Brave men live, struggle, die and are buried before we read about it in the Times. NEWS has become History before we have a chance to read it. Young couples get married and have children before I read about it (and you can't blame it on fast living either). Syntaxes are levied on my bookie and he goes out of business before I see it in print. Strangely, the weather reports are usually correct when read two days late.

Now the Postal Service tells me this delay is caused when the Times is shipped to Harrisburg and then back to Aspers. Some place in your organization you must have a Democrat! I hate to boss your business, But you had better fire this Politician and hire a EXPEDITOR. A man like "Ike" Eisenhower would be ideal for this job if you can get him to commit himself. Local talent, too!

Mebbe you could do like your namesake did in Boston. He got himself a horse and rode thru the countryside yelling "The Red Coats are Coming," and he got his name on the bottom of all the copper kettles in the country. You could yell, "The Mink Coats is Coming" or "Swin for your life, Harry, The Barracudas is Coming." This would not only expedite the news, it would personalize it. At first, this idea may sound silly, but it would save 59 miles and 48 hours of wear and tear on my paper. I call this plan "The Edification (aBuilding up in a moral and religious sense) of The Editor." It is for us, the living, to solve this problem, that we give the Times a New Birth (Delivery) and let the Giverofthemint (RFO) perish from the earth.

Irate Frenchman Retaliates
Against U. S. Questionnaires

Paris, Dec. 3 (AP)—To Pierre Daninos, French novelist, and critic, came one of those long American questionnaires asking about his drinking habits, parentage and connection, if any, with the Communist party. Friday he replied with a letter to President Truman published on page one of Figaro, important morning paper.

It seems that ECA (Economic Cooperation Administration) wanted him to do the captions for a cartoon strip about the Atlantic Pact countries, so he got a four-page document asking "If I had ever committed alcoholic excesses—Yes? No? and if I had ever been treated for mental or emotional troubles."

"Nature of Complexion"

"I also had to say whether I had been known under other names, how long I had existed, my past and present history, with a complete listing of my history of employment, my various residences during the past 10 years, the nature of my complexion and any distinctive marks, the extent of my education and the names of three responsible persons not related to me by blood or marriage who were particularly well qualified to give information about my character and capacity."

"Also, I was asked whether I had ever had any intention to upset the government of the United States by force or violence."

Daninos, who obviously had a very fine time answering the questionnaire and in composing the letter, said that "as a good Atlantic citizen (albeit a bad tempered Frenchman)" he had answered the 64 questions. Then eight days later came another questionnaire repeating some of the same questions.

Tried To Trap Him

"That was to learn, I was told off the record, if I would answer in the same way eight days later."

"I filled out the second questionnaire. Then not understanding too well why people should not ask America the same questions it was asking them, I wrote to President Truman and to the heads of the service (ECA):

"Dear Mr. President, I am very pleased at the honor you have done me in wanting to use my services. I accept your offer. However, being only vaguely informed about the United States, I would like to proceed with an 'Investigation check.' Will you please fill out the following questions:

It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way... with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package.

Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back.

Littlestown

Mrs. Paul Scheivert, along the Littlestown-Baltimore road, was hostess to the Starr Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, for the November meeting on Thursday evening. The meeting, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. Holman L. Sell, opened with a song service with Mrs. Scheivert serving as piano accompanist. The scripture was read by Mrs. Emma Norwood. Twelve members were in attendance. It was decided to contribute $25 to Lutheran World Action. The group planned to send Christmas greetings to members of the congregation serving with the armed forces and to the shut-ins of the congregation, on behalf of the class.

Guess packages were contributed by Mrs. Luther Hess, Mrs. Emma Norwood and Mrs. Paul Scheivert, and were received by Mrs. Claude Wintrose, Mrs. Ralph Conover and Mrs. Maurice Wareheim. Readings were given by the following: Mrs. Alberta Feeser, Mrs. Edward Plunkert, Mrs. Maurice Wareheim, Mrs. Holman Sell, Mrs. Irvin Kindig, Mrs. Ralph Conover, Mrs. Luther Hess and Mrs. Emma Norwood. The meeting closed with a social hour and not knowing how to amount to much. May I add that I am nothing but a damned individualist who would not seek the tiniest louse on the head of the United States if they would not try to find one on mine."

and refreshments were served by the November committee composed of Mrs. Paul Scheivert, chairman, Mrs. Emma Norwood, Mrs. Annie Keefer and Mrs. Luther Hess. The next meeting of the class will be held Thursday, December 21, in the form of a Christmas party. The program will be in charge of the December committee consisting of Mrs. Maurice Wareheim, chairman, Mrs. William H. Hixon, Mrs. George Stover and Mrs. Holman Sell. Further plans concerning the meeting will be announced later.

The annual Christmas party will be held in connection with the December meeting of the Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the church. The entertainment and refreshment committee is composed of group two consisting of Mrs. Richard A. Little, chairman, Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, Mrs. Robert C. FIRE COMPANY
TO NOMINATE

Nomination of officers will take place at the December meeting of Alpha Fire company No. 1 on Tuesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the engine house, as announced by the company president, Bernard M. Selby.

A round table discussion will be held at the regular meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock at Schott's hotel. The discussion will be in charge of the Fellowship and Attendance committee composed of A. W. Schott, chairman, Mervin Harner, Roy D. Knouse and Richard A. Little. This evening the Rotarians and their farmer guests will attend the Farmer's Night program being held in conjunction with the weekly meeting of the Hanover Rotary club at the Richard McAllister hotel.

Miss Willa Ketterman, near town, was the recipient of the award given at the 8 o'clock Appreciation Day drawing on Saturday. She received $17 or five percent of the total jackpot. Following the drawing a ticket was given away to the play "Crazy Daze," to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings. The ticket was received by Erwin A. Rebert, M. street. At the 9 o'clock program, a $21 merchandise certificate redeemable at Schott's hotel was received by Mrs. Evelyn Pissel, Prince street. Another free ticket was issued to "Crazy Daze" and was received by Mrs. Paul E. Alhoff, East Myrtle street.

Mrs. Richard M. Phreane, West King street, spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Titus Hoffman, Red Lion.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Lehman and son, Gordon, Campbelltown, were Saturday visitors at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Howard Koons and family, Christ Reformed church parsonage, East King street.

Groups To Meet

The Rev. R. R. Kunkle, pastor of the First Nazareth church, has announced that the congregation will be known hereafter as the Christian Fellowship church. The congregation has been conducting services in the old Regent theater building, West King street. The Rev. Mr. Kunkle, for ten years an ordained elder of the church of the Nazareth, has joined the Christian Fellowship association, which is composed of 120 interdenominational headquarters in Philadelphia.

The Women's Bible class of St. Mary's Evangelical and Reformed church, Silver Run, will meet this evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the church for the monthly session. A program in keeping with Christmas will be presented and the members of the class will exchange gifts.

The December meeting of the Council of St. Mary's Lutheran church will be held on Tuesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the office of the church as announced by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Frederick R. Seibel.

Class Banquet Tonight
Mrs. Albert Lawyer, Silver Run, will be hostess to the Women's Missionary society of St. Mary's Lutheran church for the monthly meeting on Sunday evening, December 9, 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Frederick R. Seibel will be the leader for the topic discussion.

The members of the Young Married Men's Sunday school class of St. Mary's Reformed church will hold their annual Christmas banquet this evening at 7 o'clock at Froek's, near Westminster, instead of December 17, as previously announced. Roy D. Knouse will serve as toastmaster, and Sherman Flanagan will be guest speaker for the occasion.

The Women's Guild of St. Mary's Reformed church will hold a white gift service for Homebound, Reformed church home for the aged, near Hagerstown, on Friday evening, December 7, 7:45 o'clock, at the church. The social service committee, Mrs. Clinton Kocitz, chairman, will be in charge. The hostess committee comprises all members of the Guild who have birthday anniversaries during the months of October, November and December. On that same evening, the executive board of the Guild will meet at 6:45 p.m., prior to the service.

Climate of the Yukon territory is marked by great variations in temperature from year to year. In some years the coldest month has averaged from 40 to 50 below zero, and in other years the average temperature has been above zero.

CASH IS STOLEN
FROM 2 HOMES;
3RD RANSACKED

Three Littlestown homes were ransacked by unknown persons and cash was stolen from two of the homes on Saturday night, as reported by Littlestown Chief of Police Albert H. Miller, Jr.

The residences of A. and Mrs. Conrad C. Hull, 112 Maple avenue, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kress, Jr., 108 Maple avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon, 62 Prince street, were entered. The Hull and Kress homes were entered between 7:30 and 9:15 p.m., Saturday. Entrance to the Hull residence was gained through an unlocked cellar door and to the first floor by breaking a panel in the kitchen door. Nothing was taken from that home. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Kress was entered by breaking a window pane in one of the cellar windows. There the robbers broke the baby's "piggy" bank and collected the sum of $20 or $25 in small change.

The Prince street home was entered by way of the back door which was unlocked, between 7:15 and 10:15 p.m., Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon reported that about $75 or $80 in cash is missing. The burglars ransacked all the homes by going through a hall of the closets, cupboards and drawers emptying contents on the floor and strewing the articles throughout the houses. Some of the items, such as clothing, which were thrown on the floor had been walked on, the home owners reported. The three homes are located in the same section of the community and all were constructed during this year. The robberies are being investigated by Chief of Police Miller.

209 Victims Santa

Over 200 children visited Santa Claus and were treated by him on Saturday evening at Santa's headquarters in the Mehling building, South Queen street, as reported by Marvin F. Breighner, president of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the affair.

"America's First Peace Talk" was the theme of the float entered by Littlestown Cub Pack No. 84 in the road opening parade on Saturday afternoon which was awarded the first prize of $50 in cash. The display depicted the Indians smoking the peace pipe with the pilgrims. The personnel for the scene included Cubmaster L. Robert Crouse as the Indian chief; Barry Fissel, Larry Gladhill and John Way, Indians; Mrs. Wilson Stair, den mother, as the Indian squaw; Jacqueline Elder, the little Indian girl; Bruce Stair and Larry Snyder, the Pilgrims. The truck on which the display was arranged was owned and driven by Millard E. Eashear, Jr. The carpentry work for the float was supervised by Assistant Cubmaster Howard Myers, assisted by den fathers G. Richard Knippel, Beaven Hanlon and Robert B. Wareheim, and the den mothers, John C. Byers acted in an advisory capacity. The Cub Scouts were in uniform and the den mothers were Mrs. E. Paul Bigelow, Mrs. Edwin W. Elder, Jr., and Mrs. Beaven Hanlon. Immediately following the parade, the scouts were treated at Banker's restaurant, South Queen street, by the owner, Karl P. Banker.

Hold Rehearsals

Rehearsals are now in progress for the presentation of "Crazy Daze," a comedy, to be staged on Thursday and Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Littlestown high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion. The affair is being held for the benefit of the community ambulance maintenance fund and the production will include a cast of local talent. Joseph P. Long, who portrays the part of laugh provoking "Toby Jones," and Jacqueline Baughman Rudisill, who will take the part of "Laurie Ann Sikes," will advertise the play when they participate in a radio program at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. On Friday evening, prior to the play, a king and queen of "Tiny Tots" in Littlestown will be crowned by Santa Claus. Any child in the community between the ages of one and six years is eligible for entry before Wednesday.

Additional features to take place prior to "Crazy Daze" include a "Moth'r Goose Review," with Mrs. Elidah Arter, a member of the local grade school faculty, as Mother Goose, with members of the first and second grades as the children; a "Rosalind Cassidy" review with the pupils of the fourth and fifth grades participating; Laura Lee Bowers, a pupil in the elementary grades, will do a solo dance in the Rainbow ballet, "Nightmare Wedding," a review with an all male cast, will be featured. In the road opening parade on Saturday afternoon, Miss Iona Day, professional dramatist who is coaching the play, appeared in the costume of "Aunt Fertilizer," inviting everyone to see "Crazy Daze." Miss Day, in her costume, had her picture taken with Burgess Herbert J. Motter and Legion Commander John Wareheim. The Legionnaires, all wearing ladies' hats on Saturday afternoon, sold tickets for the production.

It is estimated that one million Americans have undetected diabetes.
